DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to the Amendment filed December 2, 2005. Claims 1-33 were canceled and claim 39-40 have been added. Claims 34-40 are now pending.

Examiner's Amendment

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CAR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Donald K. Drummond on January 31, 2006.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 34, line 3, change "an enamine formula (II) as a vulcanization accelerator:" to -- an enamine of formula (II) as a vulcanization accelerator to form a mixture:"

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 34-40 are allowed.

Art Unit: 1713

5. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present claims are allowable over the closest references: Danielson (US 4,082,706).

A method to accelerate the vulcanization of rubber, comprising adding to a rubber an enamine of formula (III) as a vulcanization accelerator:

wherein the rubber vulcanizes faster with the enamine than without the enamine

(summary of claim 34)

Danielson discloses a method to enhance the ozone resistance by adding an enamine of

Formula (I)

to a natural rubber, styrene-butadiene rubber, or ethylene-propylene-non-conjugated diene terpolymer rubber as an antiozonant (col. 3, lines 29-37; Table A; claims 1-7). However, Danielson does not teach or fairly suggest a method to accelerate the vulcanization of rubber, comprising the claimed enamine as a vulcanization accelerator.

In light of the above discussion, it is evident as to why the present claims are patentable over the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Art Unit: 1713
